Guns were invented by Swartz, a German about 1378, and were brought into use by about 1378, and were brought into use by the Venetians in 1352. Cannons were invented at an anterior date. They were first used at the battle of Cressy, in 1316. In England they were first used in the siege of Berwick, in 1405; it was not until 1544, however, that they were east in England.—They were used on board of ships in 1520, and were in use among the Turks about the same time. An artillery company was instituted in England, for weekly military exercises in 1610. The best iron plates for gun barrels are those made of stub-iron, that is of old horse-shoe made welded together and of old horse-shoe nails welded together and forged into thin bars, or rather narrow rib-bands. At one time Damascus barrels bands. At one time Damaseus barrels were much in vogue; they were fashioned either from places made of iron and steel, paralled and welded together, or from rihands of the same Damaseus stuff coiled into a cylinder at a red heat, and then welded together in the seams. Under Louis XIV., the French cannon are said to have been of a better nailty that, those of the been of a better quality than those of the present time; zinc was mixed with the met-al in the condition of brass. The titles made in later times have failed, because the zinc was introduced directly into the alloy while in fusion, in which case the zinc is burned off, and forms no combination with the fused metal -N. MR. EVERETT'S DISCOURSE.—We would re mind our readers that the discourse of Mr Everett on Washington, which has delighted so many thousand of our countrymen, while cukindling their patriotism, is to be delivered this evening at Aquinneck Hall, at 8 o'clock Nothing that we can say can add to the attraction, which the name of the first scholar and orator of America, connected as it now is with the merits and services of the "Father of his country," must command. This is an intellectual repast of a class such as we may neveragain have an opportunity of partaking of and in future time those who have heard Mr. Everett on this occasion, will ever be grat-ified to narrate to their children and grand children the impression imbibed from his lips of one whose memory all, of all parties, de light to revere. We have already intimated that nothing from our pen can be required to induce a just appreciation of Mr. Exercit's consumate cloquence. It may not, however in that connection be irrelevant to notice its effect recently alluded to by the President of the Institution, at St. Louis, where after an inauguration discourse from him, $200,000 were subscribed to the University then being were mainly indebted to his speech. Interesting and instructive as the discourse must be to sil, it presents to the citizens of Newport, at this time, special attractions.— The day of its delivery was selected with particular reference to the first visit of Washington, as President of the United States, to Rhode Island. It will be remembered that a cautious jealousy of State Rights, all important to our little commonwealth; not only prevented our ancesters from sending delegates to the Federal Convention, but induced them to withold their ratification of the Constitution till more than a year after the Govcrument of the United States was organized. The President who had purposely omitted us in his previous visit to New England, landed here on the 16th of August, 1790. On that occasion an address was presented to him on behalf of the town of Newport, which as well as the answer of Washington, will this evening be read from the ancient records, by the May-or of the city, and will afford a suitable intraduction to the oration. With a view to these circumstances, the municipal authorities have been, at Mr. Everett's suggestion, particular ly invited.

We noticed, while walking in the south part of the city a few days ago, that a body of laborers were busy in laying the foundation of a tower for the Emanuel Church. Since then we have been more particularly informed with regard to that project. We are glad to state that the proposed addition is well designed to secure a valuable and elegant improvement to the appearance of the main building. Doubtless the undertaking has been suggested and sanctioned by the prosperity of the society. Under the care of its excellent pastor, Rev. Dr. Brewer, Emmanuel Church bids fair to arrive at complete temporal success, while accomplishing its full and cheering share of spiritual good.

On Wednesday, a subscription of six hundred dollars was made by a number of the citizens of this city, for the purchase of three pieces of silver plate to be awarded to the successful boats of the three classes of the Yacht Squadron, in a race to take place from this harbor at such time as might be agreeable to the Squadron .-At the request of these gentlemen His Honor the Mayor extended an invitation to the Squadron, which was conveyed by a! special messenger to New Bedford. Satur day morning he received the following reply from Commodore Edgar :

I am request ed by the gentlemen of the Squadron to express to you their sense of the honor which has been done them, and also to say that; owing to engagements on the part of the Captains of the different Yachts, the Squadron finds itself obliged to disperse. It is a subject of much regret that we cannot accept your liberal offer.

STATEMENTS OF BOTH CAPTAINS.

We have to record to-day another terrible steamboat disaster, which has resulted in the loss of thirteen lives. A collision took place at 2 o'clock, Saturday morning, between the steamer Metropolis, Capt Brown, of the Fall River Line, and the proueller, J. N. Harris, Capt. Smith, which was on her way from New York to New London. The Metropolis was making her regular trip from Fall River to New York. The entwater of the steamer struck the Propeller a little forward of niidships, causing her to sink ulmost instantaneously.

The Metropolis received a severe shock, but was not seriously injured. On the Pro-peller were, as nearly as can be ascertained, fourteen passengers and a crew of eleven persons. Of these, twelve in all were saved, including the captain, first and second engineers, two deck hands, and seven

The Propeller had a miscellaneous load of iron, provisions, fruit, &c. Not an article was saved by any of the crew or passengers, except what they happened to have on. As soon as the accident occurred, the Metropolis was stopped, and a large number of life-preservers was thrown over. Boats were also lowered, and cruised about the

A subscription for the relief of the survivors and families of the lost was taken up on board the Metropolis, reaching $495.

The Metropolis reached her landing in

New York at about half-past nine Saturday morning. Capt. Smith of the Propeller lost his three children which so much overwhelmed him that he was hardly able to give anything like full particulars of the calamity. The Propeller was a new boat valued at $22,500, and was owned by a Company. She was insured against fire, but there was no marine risk on her. She had a valuable eargo consigned to different parties in New London, on which there was probably no insurance. The following is a part of Capt. Smith's statement :---

"The Metropolis struck us just forward of the pilot house, and probably cut completely through. We had a sail up at the time. We had been stopped sometime when the collision occurred. I have nothing to say as to how it happened. It was bright starlight and the weather was not rough. The women and children were all rough. The women and children were all lost. They were a bed, and those that were asleep had hardly a chance to save them-

The Propeller went down within less than five minutes from the time she was struck. I have lost three little children; that will be hard news to carry

AN AFFECTING SCENE.

While Capt. Smith was giving his statement an old gentleman walked into the cabin of the Metropolis, and approached with an agitated namuer. "How do you do Mr. Gordon?" said the Captain, extending his hand, and at the same time averting his tace. The old gentleman took the proffered hand, and said in a tremulous voice: "I came to ask about my daughte-is she alive or not?" "She is gone," said the Captain. "Oh! my God!" exclaimed the old man, as he burst into tears. There Afterwards the Captain said to our reporter: "She was a beautiful girl only eighteen years old. Mr. Gordon gave her into my charge only yesterday afternoon, to take her to her friends in New London, but now she has gone with my children."

DEATH ON THE METROPOLIS. Among the passengers on the Metropo-lis was Mr. George Tappan, a merchant of New Belford, and a man of considerable property. He has been subject to fits, and was on his way with his wife to visit the South for his health. When the disaster occurred he was very much excited, and, while making some inquiries he fell backwhile making some inquiries are near examined in an apoplectic fit, and expired almost instantly. Br. After the first alarm of the accident had omewhat subsided on board the steamer the shock, of course, having awakened all the steepers and brought every one on deck, a meeting was extemporized, and a com-mittee appointed to collect fands to relieve, in some measure, the most pressing wants of the sufferers who were saved from the wreck, and also for the benefit of the funilies of those who were lost.

The following gentlemen were then appointed as the committee: Lowell Mason, Jr., New York; the Rev. R. W. Clark, Brooklyn; W. P. Jones, Portsmouth, N. H.; J. K. Frothingham, Boston.

These gentlemen at once proceeded to the duties imposed upon them by their fellow passengers, and collected the sum of four hundred and eighty-five dollars—a very handsome sum to be realized from the very handseme sum to be realized from the persons on board the steamer.

The committee will take charge of any further denotions that the citizens of New York, or other benevolent persons, may be disposed to forward them for the purpose of affording relief to these very distressing cases of suffering.

Among the thrilling and heartrending incidents connected with the disaster, a passenger relates the following:

A woman was seen struggling in the water, supporting her infant child in her arms—a rope was thrown to her, which fell within her reach, and which she might have seized and saved herself, by relinquishing her hold upon her child. She looked upon saw the rope, saw those who would have given almost their own hold upon life to save hers, then pressed her child to her breast and sank forever.

REMOVAL OF MRS. CUNNINGHAM TO THE TOMBS.—The N. Y. Post of Thursday evening says:

"Until to-day Mrs. Cunningham has been suffered to remain at the house No. 31 Bond street, alleging that she was too ill for removal. She has been under the spe-cial charge of Capt. Dilks of the Fifteenth ward police, acting as agent of the warden of the city prison, to which she had been formally committed by the warrant of Justice Davison. This morning, however, no chance of her obtaining bail remaining, it was resolved to remove her to the legitimate place of confinement—the Tombs,— Perhaps the action of the authorities was a little hastened in the matter by the fol-

Upon the receipt of the above letter this morning, Mr. Hall dispatched officer Smith, of the First District Police Court; to Capt Dilks to make arrangements to remove Mrs. Cunningham to the Tombs as quickly and quietly as possible. Officer Smith and Capt. Dilks proceeded to the house about 9 o'clock, and informed Mrs. Cunningham of their errand. Her daughters were with her, and as soon as the subject was broach-ed, Augusta, the cldest, who has for some time been ill of a nervous disorder, fell in a fainting fit. She was revived with some difficulty, only to relapse into another.— Medical aid was procured, but it was not until after 11 o'clock that she became so Capt. Dilks and Officer matries, north by Capt. Disks and Ameer Smith, who placed her carefully on the back seat. She appeared to be dressed in black, was covered over with shawls, &c., and were a thek veil over her face. She offered no word, and made no motion, but laid as if entirely helpless. Miss Helen was then handed in. Officers Dilks and Smith then sented themselves beside her; the curtains were carefully closed, and, at greeisely half-past 11 o'clock, Mrs. Conhighan rode away from 31 Bond street, robably never to return.

DEATH OF GENERAL RUSK .- The following particulars of the tragical death of Senator Rusk, are from an extra of the Nacogdoches Chronicle of July 30 :—

Gen. Rusk has, ever since the death of his wife, suffered under mental depression. He has, to a great extent, secluded himself from society, and lately that despondency has been more marked and apparent to those familiar with him. A severe illness from which he was just recovering, had prostrated him for weeks, and he was suffering greatly from a rising on the back of his

On yesterday evening, about 2 o'clock his family, hearing the report of a gun and the fall of a body, ran to the spot, and found him lying dead upon the ground, behind the gallery at the back of the house, with a rifle under him. A coroner's jury was summoned from whose verdict we extract the following:

"The cause of his d ath was a gun-shot

No further clue can be given to this mys-

THE AMERICAN HORSES AT GOODWOOD. -Por er's Spirit of the Times gives the following good advice in regard to the Goodwood races:

"Had this result been first achieved at the York races we should have received it with distrust, for the reason set forth by us some time since. But the management of the Goodwood races is beyond suspicion.— There our horses have been fairly treated, and every opportunity has been afforded them and their owner to bring out their best qualities. Doubtless these opportunities have been improved, and the consequence is, that we have been fairly, handounce is, that we have been tarry, hand-somely and thoroughly beaten. And the best thing we can do is to acknowledge the fact, and if we like, try again! All noncesnes apart, it is really of some importance that we should not make fools of ourselves, because two of our horses have been out run by four horses of British breed-ing on the British turf, and a Gallie Monar-que.

If we must be beaten, it is a satisfaction we have been beaten fairly, and in good company, and before an honorable assembly of spect iters !"

PAWTUCKET LIGHT GUARD,-This is the name which is to be borne by the military company that is now in process of oganization in this place. A meeting of the mem-bers was held on Tuesday evening last at Columbian Hall, at which time a part of the continual rate, at wine time a partor one officers were elected. An acjoureed meeting will be holden the fore part of next week, when the oganization of the company will be completed. The prospect of full ranks and a company that will do credit to the place is highly encouraging, and we hope nothing will occur to defeat the praiseworthy design of those who have interested themselves in the movement. General Pitman, by direction of the Governor of Rhode Island, on Thursday evening last made the preliminiary inspection of the company required by law, and we undescand that the members passed a a very satisfactory examination.—Paw. Gazette.

How to Celebrate the Completion OF THE ATLANTIC OCEAN TELEGRAPH.— Professor Mahan, of West Point, the same gentleman, we believe, whose buff vest created such a sensation at the Court of St. James, writes :

"After the line is completely secured, let a moment of time be agreed upon by the committee, in which from the American terminus, as a central point, the command, shout with a mighty voice, shall be sent through Great Britain and her dependencies and the United States, wherever connecting lines may lead to. #### NEW THIS MORNING. UNUSUAL ATTRACTION.

LADIES FAIR AT AQUIDNECK HALL.,

RARELY has so much real pleasure combined with an opportunity to be generous and charitable been offered to the public. The Ladies of St. Mary's Church will hold a Fancy Fair at Aquidneck Hall on, Wednesday, the 19th inst., and following days, until the 22d inclusive.

The proceeds to be devoted to the completion of the Main Tower of that beautiful Church even already an ornament to our farrenowned city.

The fancy tables will be filled with articles of taste and virtue, the useful and the ornamental. The refreshment table is expected to be a model of the cusisine.

Refreshments of all kinds suitable to the season shall be on hand, and the most deticate taste, and the most fastidious palate shall be gratified.

The Union Brass Band of Providence, will be in attendance, and add the powerful attraction of music to the many others offered by the Fair.

These symptoms, it allowed to go on—which this medicine invariably removes—soon follows Loss of Power, Fatuity, and Epileptic Fits—in one of which the patient may expire. Who cannot say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases—Instantity and Consumption! The records of the Instance Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the train of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destinute—neither mirth or giref ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

LOTTERIES.

LOTTERIES.—The well known Mary Land Consolidated Lotteries, of which R Framer & Co. are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as otteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day in the mouth. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes hand. The prices of tickets however, sont unless the non-money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combination. Prizes cary in amount from $20 to 1000,000, All orders/for lickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over. Address — No. 30 Fayette st., or Bax No. 40, 1527 — The Drawn Numbers of the Maryland.

(T) The Drawn Numbers of the Maryland of the parties are published by the State Commissioner in the following Papers, viz.. Sun, Chipper, Parirot, American, Argus, of Baltimore, also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D. C.

LOTTERIES.—The Lotteries of Samuel Saan & Co., are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have swon commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as though they were present. The managers would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co., are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comest to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in everyten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination o numbers to mistify the buyer. Prizes vary from $30 to $50,000; every prize being drawn and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

If A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount that each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delm, Mebile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Razette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book.—Write your address plainly, and direct S. The GREATEST WONDER OF THE AGE.

A REMEDY which CURES IN FIVE MINUTES.—M. LERGUN'S French Cholera Cognae Bitters. This truly wonderful scientific compound is recommended by the most eminent and learned physicians of all Europe and America, and enjoys the best reputation of anything similar ever offered. It is without doubt, the best nost efficient and generally acknowledged remedy against cholera, dysentery, diarrhoea, and complaints of the stooms this property of the stooms of the stooms in general. The nuaerous patients who have tried it according to directions have invariably found relief in a very short three, and the best proof of it is, that since this standard remedy was introduced in the armies of the Allies in the Crimea, the mortality of the soldiers from cholera and similar diseases was diminished by over 75 per cent; in consideration of which, the inventur was presented by the French and English governments with a gold medal, bearing the inscription "Hail! M. Leroux, the great chemist and invency, by whose knowledge our armies are preserved from cholera."

This invaluable preparation is also a remedy for billiousness, indigestion, weakness, and general derangement of the stomach. Upon being taken, it creates appetite, and prevents the heaviness attendant upon eating by persons who are dyspeptic.

In this city, also this remedy has been tried with the most undoubted success, and the undorsigned can produce the best testimonials of our most celebrated physicians, as to its immediate and complete success, which he will be happy at any time to show to any that may wish to see them.
